FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE CAPABILITIES GROUP

CONFERENCE

SOVIET DECEPTION OF US INTELLIGENCE:
CONCEPTS, TECHNIQUES, AND PROSPECTS (S)

29-31 August 1984

25X1

Purposes: The principal objective of the conference is to improve the capability of the intelligence community to identify and analyze Soviet deception. The conference will promote a comprehensive discussion of issues that bear on the vulnerability of US intelligence to Soviet deception efforts. Cleared specialists--from both inside and outside the community--will examine potential techniques for intelligence deception, and the prospects for its occurrence during the foreseeable future. Sessions will focus predominately on the issues of major strategic and political deception rather than on the more widely understood concealment and denial measures, or tactical deception for use during armed conflict.

Agenda

- I. Perspectives on Intelligence Deception
- II. Deception Illustrations
- III. Techniques for Deception
- IV. Prospects for Deception
- V. Deception Analysis
- VI. Seminar: Round Table Review of Conference
- VII. Seminar: Agenda for Future Work
